

The Greater Michigan PMC in cooperation with Eastern Michigan University and the Michigan

Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Association are sponsoring a seminar on Ethics in the Construction Industry on October 13th, 2004.

PMC Sponsors Ethics Seminar

Conversation and concern about trust and ethical behavior have reached critical mass as people lose faith in nearly every institution.

From churches to corporate America and beyond, news of fraud and dishonesty prevail. This ethics seminar will deal completely with the construction industry. It will enlighten all participants as to how an ethical situation can arise. It will also teach that thinking ethically can be a challenge, but is morally right. Although ethical seminars such as this one may not provide an answer to every specific question, they do help inform on how to approach such ethical situations.

Planning Subcommittee - L. to R. - Michael Brunett, John E. Green Company, Dr. James Gill, Louisiana State University, Milt Jackson, Eastern Michigan University, Keith Fischer, A. F. Smith & Sons, and Mike Haller, Walbridge-Aldinger, Inc. (not pictured PMC President Sandra Miller

A panel of experts on the topic of ethics will address the realities of ethical dilemmas and the tough choices involved in deciding how to act .

The Panel will offer insights into how ethics have been a central concern to certain decisions they've had to make. Representatives from PMC's Student Chapter, the Eastern Constructor will be involved in the panel.

Duane Branch Speaks at MPMCA Annual Meeting

Duane Branch, longtime PMC member, and Chairman of the Michigan Board of Plumbing spoke at the recent MPMCA Board meeting. He updated those present on the past year's activities of the Board and discussed the various programs that are in the planning stages for the upcoming year. Duane was assisted with his report by John Jacobs, long time member of the Plumbing Board.

L. to R. – Duane Branch, John Jacobs